GENERAL RULE--The applicant/participant is provided the opportunity to present and verify reason (s) why he/she failed to comply with program eligibility requirements including, but not limited to:

- Participation in allowable work activities;
- Providing verification and documentation of participation in allowable work activities;
- Accepting or maintaining employment;
- Keeping appointments;
- Reporting changes within ten (10) days of knowing of the change;
- Providing information and/or verification necessary to determine eligibility.

The reasons and verification provided by the participant will be evaluated to determine if they meet 'good cause' criteria. If good cause exists, the adverse action is not taken. The Eligibility Case Manager will discuss the circumstances with the individual in an effort to prevent noncompliance in the future. In many instances, this evaluation is immediate and the appropriate action taken promptly with appropriate notice.

For the process on determining good cause when the claim is made after the imposition of a sanction, see TANF 702-2.
